

Who Jumped It Best? Carolina CIC2* Cross Country Edition

By Jenni Autry

Fifty-eight horses and riders ultimately set out on Ian Stark's CIC2* course at Carolina International, with 47 completing. One of the most difficult combinations on course proved to be Stonehenge, with an airy open corner set on a bending line following a log. Ian Stark's bold, forward design style meant going for an attacking three strides produced the best result for most horses and riders.

Here's a look at 10 two-star pairs that had beautiful trips through Stonehenge and went on to complete the course. Channel your inner George Morris and vote in the poll at the bottom of the post for which horse and rider you think present the best overall picture over the fence. Then click here to catch up all of EN's #2016CI coverage.

Kristen Bond and Enough Already. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Amy Ruth Borun and Casarino. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Shelby Brost and Crimson. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Jan Byyny and Urrem. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Will Faudree and Caeleste. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Phillip Dutton and Fernhill Cubalawn. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Kevin Keane and Fernhill Flutter. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Ellie MacPhail and RF Panamera. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Meghan O'Donoghue and Palm Crescent. Photo by Jenni Autry.

Jessica Schultz and Lock N' Load. Photo by Jenni Autry.